It's the right thing to do!

CRS containers will set be set at the discretion and direction of the contractor and property owner. Normal setting would be on a hard surface such as asphalt or concrete. While we take precautions to prevent damages to these surfaces, by signing this waiver you acknowledge that we are not liable for any instances that may occur as a result as a result of our equipment. Container setting is the responsibility of the homeowner or contractor. If it is necessary to place the container on grass, gravel or any other substrate CRS will accept no liability for damages that may arise from container placement, or out equipment in accessing the container. By signing this agreement you release CRS from these liabilities.
